

"YOUNG MUSCOVITE"

First steps in dance. First steps into art. These children are members of an amateur choreographic ensemble "Young Muscovite", which has been organized by the Trade Union Culture Club. Vera Ingel, Merited Worker of Culture of the Russian Federation, is the art director of the ensemble. A beautiful world of art has opened here for many of the children. At present are 318 children from 6 to 18 years old in the group. The ensemble is well known in the country. The young dancers have also given performances in Hungary, Czechoslovakia, France. The "Young Muscovite" ensemble celebrated their 20th jubilee in Chaikovsky Hall, one of the best concert halls of Moscow. Representatives of different social organizations congratulated the ensemble upon their jubilee. First members of the ensemble came to see the performance already with their own children. The jubilee was a festive event both for the audience and for the young dancers. Dances of the peoples of the USSR were in the program of the performance.

WINTER GAMES

Its good to be in the fresh cold air. For some it means riding on a Russian troika, for others a tray at hockey. These enthusiasts are trying out a new combination of tennis and skates. It was invented by one of the oldest sportsman of Moscow Yevgenii Artemenko. Let's hope this new tennis on ice will enjoy everybody.

MOTOCROSS

All-Union Motocross competitions dedicated to the 50th anniversary of DOSAAF were held in Moscow in Tushino. The fight for victory was extremely exciting. The competitions of the 250 cc class victory was gained by young Estonian driver Mart Myaagar.
